The Collect.

O God, may our hearts be so filled with love towards you, that we, loving you above all things, may show forth that love in continual service of our brethren; through the Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Epistle for the 6th Sunday after Trinity is from the recorded word of Sanat Kumara.

Do not become weary from the routine of the day. Always keep the goal before you, not the eternal goal, for there is no eternal goal, but keep the goal of the moment which shall be an eternal goal in a sense. Keep it before you ever shining like a great golden sun. Turn not your face from its radiance nor its warmth. Go where the Father does lead, and do what the Great Holy One feels is best for you.

Here Endeth the Epistle.

The Gospel for the 6th Sunday after Trinity is from the Aquarian Gospel.

If you would serve the God who speaks within the heart, just serve your near of kin, and those that are no kin, the stranger at your gates, the foe who seeks to do you harm; assist the poor, and help the weak; do harm to no one, and covet not what is not yours. And when you sacrifice remember that the Father asks not for needless waste of plant, grain, dove or lamb. That which you burn on any shrine you throw away. No blessings can attend the one who takes food from the mouths of the hungry to be destroyed by fire. If you would offer sacrifice to God, just take your gift of grain, or any other, and lay it on the table of the poor. From it an incense will arise to heaven, which will return to you with blessedness. Then with your tongue the Holy One will speak; and he will smile behind your tears, will light your countenance with joy, and fill your hearts with peace.

Praise Be to Thee O Christ.
